DTL1334 - WEB AND MOBILE SYSTEMS

MARKING RUBRICS – PROPOSAL (20%)

Component	Excellent (80 – 100%)	Good (60 – 79%)	Satisfactory (40 – 59%)	Unsatisfactory (0 – 39%)	Mark
Project Information (40%)	Application idea is clearly and comprehensively presented. Strong problem statement, well-identified target users, and well-defined, realistic objectives.	Application idea is clear with good problem statement. Target users and objectives are stated but lack some detail.	Basic description of application idea. Problem statement, users, or objectives are unclear or underdeveloped.	Poor or unclear application idea with missing or irrelevant problem statement, target users, and objectives.
Proposed Application (40%)	Features are well-defined, relevant, and clearly explained. Platform selection is appropriate. Strong understanding of system functionality and clear user benefits.	Features are clear with minor missing details. Platform is appropriate. Functionality and user benefits are stated but not fully explained.	Basic features provided with limited clarity. Platform stated but weak explanation of functionality and user benefits.	Features are unclear, incomplete, or irrelevant. Platform and system functionality are missing or poorly described.
Project Summary (10%)	Clear and strong conclusion with meaningful explanation of application value, usefulness, and impact.	Good conclusion with clear explanation of value, but lacks depth.	Basic conclusion with limited explanation of application value.	Weak or missing conclusion with no clear explanation of application value.
Submission Quality (10%)	Report is well-structured, properly formatted, and professionally presented with correct file naming.	Minor formatting or file naming issues, but submission is complete and clear.	Some formatting issues and unclear structure. File naming may be inconsistent.	Poorly formatted, disorganised, or incomplete submission with incorrect or missing file naming.
TOTAL					